

Irving Oil Transport Wins CBAA Safety Awards in Multiple Categories

June 13, 2018 The CBAA is pleased to announce that Irving Oil Transport has won top safety honours in the company, aircraft maintenance and pilot categories of the CBAA National Safety Awards Program. Founded in 1981, these awards recognize outstanding achievements by members in maintaining a high standard of professionalism and safety in their business aircraft operations. Winners were recognized at a special awards luncheon at CBAA 2018, the national convention and exhibit for Canada's $12.1 billion business aviation sector.

Safety Company Award: 8300 hrs

Awarded to: Irving Oil Transport Inc.

Aircraft Maintenance Safety Awards 8300 hrs, Irving Oil Transport Inc., Challenger 300/350, Awarded to Andrew Merrithew , Mark McIntyre, Nick Baker and Josh Demerchant.

Pilot Safety Awards 3000 hrs, Irving Oil Transport Inc., Challenger 300/350

Awarded to: Gray Skedgel, James McCombe, Douglas Duchin , Kevin Dicaire, Shane Furlong and Dale Hackett.

The CBAA sincerely congratulates Irving Oil Transport Inc. and its pilots and maintenance staff for their corporate and personal commitment to safety.

Safety is a core value for the association, and the CBAA works year-round with members to help them achieve the highest safety standards possible. As well as acknowledging excellence in our industry with the Safety Awards, CBAA also offers its members Partners-in-Safety, a comprehensive set of tools that support compliance, regardless of the size of the operation. Elements include a Transport Canada vetted SMS for 604 operations, an aggregate Risk Management Database, sample and template ops manuals, a newly-launched CBAA Flight Risk Assessment Tool (FRAT), flight data management and more.

More information on the CBAA Safety Awards and on Partner-in-Safety can be found at www.cbaa-aaaa.ca.

With over 400 members located in every province and territory, the CBAA is the voice of Canada's $12.1 billion business aviation community.

###

For more information:

Debra Ward
613 850 9118
dward@cbaa.ca